Using Titles in Text

The titles of major works are set apart from regular text. Major works are books, long poems, magazines, newspapers, journals, movies, plays, television shows, ballets, operas, paintings, albums, and names of ships.

When you are handwriting, you underline the title of the major work. If you are typing, you put the title in italics.

Example:

He checked out a book called The Three Musketeers by Alexandre Dumas.

Or if handwritten:

He checked out a book called The Three Musketeers by Alexandre Dumas.

Titles of smaller works are put in quotation marks. These are magazine articles, songs, essays, short stories, book chapter names, short poems, and television episodes.

I read an article in the Chicago Tribune titled "The Best Places for Pizza."

Rewrite each of the following sentences, using quotation marks and underlining or italics where needed.

1. Aline likes to sing the song O! Susanna.
2. The teacher read to the students from the book Where the Red Fern Grows.
3. Jim's grandmother gave him a subscription to National Geographic magazine.
4. Edgar Allen Poe wrote many short stories such as The Tell-Tale Heart.
5. Every Christmas the family went to see The Nutcracker performed by the city ballet company.
6. The Sesame Street theme song is Can You Tell Me How to Get to Sesame Street?
7. Last night I began the chapter in Black Beauty entitled Going For the Doctor.
8. The Lobster Quadrille is a short poem in Alice's Adventures in Wonderland by Lewis Carroll.
