

Name: _____

Commonly Confused Words: A Lot vs. Alot vs. Allot

A lot, alot, and allot sound alike, but one is not a word and the other two have different meanings.

A lot is a two-word phrase made up of an article (a) and a noun (lot). It means a great amount or many.

Example 1: Her sister worried a lot about her studies.

Alot is not a word. It is a misspelling of a lot. It should not be used in writing.

Allot is a verb meaning to distribute or assign.

Example 1: The speaker will allot time at the end for questions.

Choose a lot or allot to complete each sentence.

1. Do you have _____ of homework tonight?
2. The land bureau was required to _____ homesteads to each settler.
3. There are a _____ of things I don't like about spiders.
4. We will have to _____ some of the money to pay bills.
5. The city council won't _____ space for a park.
6. It was _____ of work to clear the land for farming.
7. You should _____ yourself enough time to finish your chores.
8. Telling lies was _____ to ask of a friend.
9. _____ of people would not have stopped to help.
10. No one can _____ blame for the accident.

Name: _____ Key

Commonly Confused Words: A Lot vs. Alot vs. Allot

A lot, alot, and allot sound alike, but one is not a word and the other two have different meanings.

A lot is a two-word phrase made up of an article (a) and a noun (lot). It means a great amount or many.

Example 1: Her sister worried a lot about her studies.

Alot is not a word. It is a misspelling of a lot. It should not be used in writing.

Allot is a verb meaning to distribute or assign.

Example 1: The speaker will allot time at the end for questions.

Choose a lot or allot to complete each sentence.

1. Do you have a lot of homework tonight?
2. The land bureau was required to allot homesteads to each settler.
3. There are a lot of things I don't like about spiders.
4. We will have to allot some of the money to pay bills.
5. The city council won't allot space for a park.
6. It was a lot of work to clear the land for farming.
7. You should allot yourself enough time to finish your chores.
8. Telling lies was a lot to ask of a friend.
9. A lot of people would not have stopped to help.
10. No one can allot blame for the accident.