

Name: _____

Alliteration: Change the Adjectives

Alliteration is where two or more words start with the same sound.

Example: a happy house. Happy and house both start with the same sound.

In each phrase below, change the adjective or adjectives to make an alliteration.

Example: A joyful house Change to: A happy house

Be sure and keep the same meaning of the phrase.

1. A great woman _____
2. The scary house _____
3. The lovely baby _____
4. The nice giant _____
5. A noisy lion _____
6. A pleasant song _____
7. The silent queen _____
8. The unusual mirror _____
9. The anxious nurse _____
10. My great dad _____

Alliteration: Change the Adjectives

Alliteration is where two or more words start with the same sound.

Example: a happy house. Happy and house both start with the same sound.

In each phrase below, change the adjective or adjectives to make an alliteration.

Example: A joyful house Change to: A happy house

Be sure and keep the same meaning of the phrase.

Examples of correct answers:

1. A great woman A wonderful woman
2. The scary house The haunted house
3. The lovely baby The beautiful baby
4. The nice giant The gentle giant
5. A noisy lion A loud lion
6. A pleasant song A sweet song
7. The silent queen The quiet queen
8. The unusual mirror The magical mirror
9. The anxious nurse The nervous nurse
10. My great dad My dear dad