

Latin and Greek Suffixes: -Id and -Onomy/-Nomy

Many suffixes we use in English originally come from Greek or Latin word endings. The suffix -id is from Latin and Greek meaning “relating to.” The suffix -onomy/-nomy is from Greek meaning “science of” or “management of.” Suffixes often change the meaning of the root word. For example, the root pale means “light colored” or “white.” Combine pale with -id, and it becomes the word pallid. Based on its original meaning, pallid means “relating to white” or colorless because of weakness or bad health.

Use the list in the bank to make five different English words out of -id and -onomy/-nomy. You may add a prefix or change the spelling a little if needed. Write a sentence for each word you make and circle the word you made with the suffix. Be sure to use words for both -id and -onomy/-nomy.
